30 Most Beautiful High School Campuses List Published

Ranking constitutes largest, most holistic examination of high school campus architecture to date

There has been some debate surrounding the impact architecture has on learning. Studies have found that students perform better in math, reading, and standardized tests in certain environments – particularly in learning spaces that feature outdoor views, an abundance of natural light, and greater mobility and movement. Teaching methods are adapting with the times, so it's not surprising that school buildings are being updated and modernized, too – incorporating contemporary teaching initiatives and eco-friendly architectural designs. Best Education Degrees has released a ranked list of the 30 most amazing high school campuses in the world. The full ranking can be viewed at this link:

<http://www.besteducationdegrees.com/most-amazing-high-school-campuses/>. The ranking is the largest to date of notable high school campus architecture, encompassing many factors such as the learning environment and architectural notability. Make sure to view the listing to experience the visual impact of all 30 schools in this truly global ranking. The top five are listed below.

1. Inderkum High School Sacramento, California
2. Bertha von Suttner School – Vienna, Austria
3. Nigel Peck Centre (Melbourne Grammar School) – Melbourne, Australia
4. Emidio Navarro Secondary School – Almada, Portugal

5. Fitzroy High School – Melbourne, Australia

Updated Whitestone Facilities Cost References Now Available

The Whitestone Books series has been completely revised for 2014. Known as a valuable resource for facility benchmarking, budgeting, and competitive bids, this series is useful for helping you to better understand:

- Benchmark and Budget O&M Costs. Compare your estimates against the pros using the detailed square-foot cost profiles. Validate your budget using 50-year O&M cost forecasts.
- Global O&M Costs. Compare O&M costs for over 400 North American and international locations.
- Facility Cost Trends. Costs of facility operations have not changed at the same rate as milk and eggs, yet many leasing agents, facility managers, and even cost analysts use the CPI. Instead use the Whitestone indexes developed specifically for O&M costs and facility related commodities.
- Detailed Component and Service Cost Data. Customize our models to reflect your facility using our provided O&M cost libraries. Anticipate project costs with the provided detailed component and wage data.

An Assessment of Shared Services in Scotland's Higher Education Sector

A new report, produced for Universities Scotland by global professional services firm EY, explores shared services across a range of themes, including academic and learning delivery, procurement, ICT, estates, and the commercialization of knowledge. The report details the analysis of the Scottish higher education sector's current use of shared services. While higher education institutions operate in a competitive national and global context, the research has demonstrated how, in Scotland, these institutions are working together to maximize their impact and achieve value for money for the Scottish government, and their direct customers: students, taxpayers, and industry. Access the report via the Universities Scotland website at:
