

APPA's Recent Resources

If you're not aware already, we wanted to bring to your attention three recent publications from the APPA Bookstore that will be valuable additions to your facilities resource library. These and many more resources are available at www.appa.org/bookstore.

Building Total Enterprise Asset Management Solutions: A Guide to Capital Needs Analysis

By Douglas K. Christensen & Cameron R. Christensen; foreword by E. Lander Medlin

At a time when long-range planning was in its infancy, Past APPA President and APPA Fellow Doug Christensen wrote about the need to be more forward thinking and strategic in the administration of physical facilities. From his first asset analysis in 1972 to his death in 2016, Doug devoted his life's work to the study of facilities planning.

This book is a compilation of the collaboration, research findings, and best practices that Doug Christensen employed in his work. It delves into the strategic foundation of long-range facilities planning, outlines methods for organizing the effort, and touches upon the role of life-cycle planning in the overall total cost of ownership model. The goal of this book is to share these findings and to help the next generation of facilities professionals benefit from his life's work. Co-written and completed by Doug's son Cameron, who himself is making a career within educational facilities.

APPA's 2012-2017 Effective and Innovative Practices Award Winning Entries: With Updates

A compilation of all of the winners of APPA's annual Effective and Innovative Practices Award from 2012 to 2017. Includes updates and the future outlook for the practices wherever possible, as we know that the continuing story of these best practices is of great interest and importance. Educational institutions can undergo technological, budgetary, and procedural changes, and learning how the program or process had changed over time is of great significance. An institution may have dealt with modifications, improvements, or issues since the inception, and we sought to know it all — the good, the great, the bad, and the ugly.

Sustainability Case Studies: Best Practices in Campus Life

This collection of short case studies highlights a range of best practices—both innovative and practical—in place right now that enhance environmental stewardship, improve cost and energy efficiencies, and provide for greater collaborations among students, faculty, and staffs at our educational institutions. This book includes 123 total best practices from 92 separate colleges, universities, and schools, representing only a small number of the exciting and practical advancements taking place in campus sustainability and environmental stewardship.
